As Ugly Fashion. It is not often that women adopt a lashion which is so plainly awkward and unattractive as to call out adverse comments from men, but the new covert coats which have lately appeared on the delicate microphono or battery is restreets have had this effect. They are made precisely like men's coats, and not held in the hand and the receiver was fitted to the waist at all, and they sag affixed to the "kepi." Combined reout behind the wearer in a fashion that ceivers and transmitters were also emis most grotesque. They are buttoned straight down in front, and the women ployed. A bare bimetallic wire 0.6 millimeters in diameter was unrolled from look very much like the characters of a drum and laid out of harm's way on dudes exploited by the comic papers. They are nearly always worn with overgaiters, or what are commonly known as spats. A woman dressed in this fashion is about as ugly an object as the masculine eye can encounter in New York.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Summer Hats.

Hats are bound to be nautical. Last year it was the yacht's rigging they copied, and every stylish bonnet was built on the fore and after model. This year the double decker seems to prevail Sometimes the upper deck is of straw like the bonnet, sometimes of flowers or jet. The amusing thing about it is that whereas recently we were allowed to have no crown at all in our chapeans, now we appear to have a double one. Underneath this tilting upper tier a mass of flowers is crowded or ribbon loops peep out. Strings are a feature of most of the new hats, starting from a rosette beneath the brim on the back and fastening with another rosette on the side. Bonnets have broad and long ties of satin or moire ribbon or of black lace.-New York Sun.

An Era of Reform in Dress. To be beautifully and stylishly dressed nowadays one must pay as much attention to one's underwear as to the gown. The fewer underclothes the better, in order to get the slender effect all women long for. The silk or wool tights, with one silk petticoat, is all that is neces

We have indeed reached an era of reform in dress, and a woman has only herself to blame if she is not comfortably dressed, always provided she chances to spend money enough. Comfortable and beautiful dressing is a luxury, and unfortunately luxuries cost money .-Boston Home Journal.

Bangs and European Servants. It is not long since no woman in service was allowed to wear a fringe, as Europeans call a bang. Mistresses in England insisted on preserving that point of difference between mistress and maid. but little by little the encroachment progressed. First it was a soft, stray curl, with quite the effect of an accideutal appearance. Then it was a little unobtrusive fluff just peeping from under the cap frill—such a small, uncon-spicuous downy wave, which only just shaded the upper part of the forehead, and so much amiability and comfortable conciliatoriness of manner accompanied the daring innovation that houseseepers made themselves conveniently blind, and before long the most pronounced and aggressive bangs became one of the right, claimed by the wily maids.—New York Press.

She Reports Prize Fights. Bay St. Louis can justly claim one of the most intelligent and plucky women of the country-one who has adopted a new sphere for the making of a lucra tive and legitimate livelihood.

The woman alluded to is Mrs. Annie Avery, who figures as the only female ring writer of the universe. Mrs. Avery, who is yet and has long been identified with the reporting of general and so ciety news to several leading dailies of the south, began her career as sporting writer in 1890, when Fitzsimmons was at the Bay training for his mill with Dempsey, and has since continued, re- Business in City or Country Promptly Attended to.porting the training of Johnny Griffin, Austin Gibbons, Callaghau, Carroll and others. Discusses Weighty Topics.
The Woman's club of Orange, N. J. held a recent meeting in charge of the committee on 'political and social science." They chose for their topic The Conversation of Home." The first paper was real by the chairman, Mrs. Ford, "A General View of the Subject." It was followed by papers on "Women as Wage Earners," "Wage Earning Children" and "The Housing of Wage Earners." A very interesting discussion followed.—Cor. Homemaker.

A Chilian Architect.

It has been generally supposed that Miss Hayden, architect of the Woman's building of the Columbian exposition, is an American. This is erroneous. Sofia Gregoria Hayden is a Chilian. She is a native of the city of Santiago. Her mother was Elecena Davala, a Peruvian of Spanish ancestry. Miss Hayden looks like a South American.—Chicago Herald.

Spring Trimmings.

Decidedly more trimming is permitted around the edge of the skirt. Several narrow flounces or full ruchings some little distance apart, and forming a border anywhere from five to twenty inches, is a favorite trimming; passementeric or bias bands of a contrasting color, in turn edged with narrow braid or jet, are used in the same way. - New York Letter.

A Boston Nam's Hard Luck. A Boston man died the other day without having touched a fortune which he had long expected and had at last inherited. The estate, which was a large one in New York, was in course of settlement, something had been realized already, and a check for several thousand dollars was sent as a first payment to the Boston man. The platform, it will be observed, treats of nothing but silver showing that its framers had a keen appropriation of the sitnation. There is not a word in it that every Democrat, People's party man and Prohibitionist in the State cannot endorse. The protectionist and free trader can alike stand upon 1', thereby proving conclusively that so far as the people of Nevada are concarned, there is nothing dividing them politically in the opinion of the Republican State Convention, but party names, and nothing in National politics that concerns them but silver.

The platform condemns the President and Eastern Republicans, yet it does not pledge Nevada Republicans to use all honorable means to defeat at the polls those whom it denounces, and, in that respect, it is inconsistent if not insincere.

If the Republican party opposed a high tariff on iron and coal and the Administration favored that policy, the Republicans of Pennsylvania and Ohio would not heaisate to pledge themselves to wote against the party and the Administration. The State Convention in Nevada, while condemning the party and the Administration does not pledge Nevada Republicans to do the Presidency.

They want the people to divide for the sake of having two or more tickets in the field, whereas the silver men believe in presenting a solid, unbroken front to the enemy. If the Gazette will read the Republican platform adopted at Virginia City last Saturday by a convention to which its editor is credited with being a delegate, it will see that it rehas nothing to say about irrigation, a comtime without number that tariff, the cossion fatally hurt. of the public lands to the State and the tax on the plate, were of greater cause-

The Elko Independent says. "Give us the free coinage of silver and a competing railroad, and the State of Nevada will soon treble us population. She is not dead but only waits until the great wrong of 1873 is righted, to leap forward in all the glory of her strength as one of this sisterhood of men formally brought suit for an injunction

The assertion that the free coinage men are opposed to the building of a competitive railroad is the silliest attempt yet made by the gold bugs to prejudice the silver cause. Is there a same man in the silver cause. Is there a same man in the silver coinage bearing from that place and Austin, who are members of Silver Ciubs, are opposed to another railroad?

If you have made up your mind to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to take any other. Hood's Sarsaparilla is a peculiar medicine, possessing, by virtue of its peculiar combination, proportion, and preparation, curative power superior to any other article. A Boston lady who knew what she wanted, and whose example is worthy imitation, tells

"In one store where I went to buy Hood's Barsaparilla the clerk tried to induce me buy their ownlinstead of Hood's; he told me their's would last longer; that I might take it on ten days' trial; that if I did not like it I need not pay anything, etc. But he could not prevai on me to change. I told him I knew what Hood's Sarsaparilla was. I had taken it, was satisfied with it, and did not want any other.

When I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla I was feeling real miserable, suffering a great deal with dyspepsia, and so weak that at times I could hardly stand. I looked, and had for some time, like a person in consumption. Hood's Sarsaparilla did me so much good that I wonder at myself sometimes, and my friends frequently speak of it." Mrs. ELLA A. FIRST CONGRESS OF THE DAUGH TERS OF THE REVOLUTION.

A Queen in a Mining Camp—A Beauty's Marriage-is the Corset to GoY-A Rainy Day Garment-The Latest Fad. An Ugly Fashion-Summer Hats. Again a "First Continental Congress" has been held. Instead of momentous times and Revolutionary statesmen, the times are those of serenity, and the distinguished members are the Daughters of the Revolution. That organization celebrated Washington's birthday by mangurating a three days' congress, the first of what is intended to be a series of annual events.

Mrs. Harrison, president of the national organization, welcomed to Washington the national officers, the state regents and delegates composing the congress and presided over the first day's leliberations. The chief business before the body was the election of officers, and when it came to this point every member was determined to have it legally settled as to who was entitled to vote. Mrs. Harrison was re-elected president general, and Mrs. William D. Cabell vice president general by acclamation. The other officers chosen were Mrs. H. charge of organization; Mrs. General Barton, surgeon general, and Mrs. T. S. enjoy a similar relief from threatening M. S. Lockwood, historian; Miss Clara

The vice president general urged the erection of a colonial hall in Washington designed oy Americans and exclusively American throughout.—Mrs. McGuirk in Business the model become among the women who know about it.—Her Point of View Woman's Journal.

Among all the thousands at Creede none attracts more attention than Mrs. Maria Love. She is a widow and an Ohioan by birth. When, a number of years ago, her husband died of consump young women like wildfire, and has oc ion in Pueblo, she found herself in a land of strangers and with a large famly of children to rear and educate. The few hundred dollars left by her husband went to purchase a small stock of stationery and newspapers.

think that a trim waist is all that is necessary to carry them through life. One woman says: "When you come to realize the freedom of having no stiff, hard, tight squeezing affair holding you, as it seems sometimes, as though you were in a vise, you begin to get a little real enjoyment from life. At first there is a feeling as if a strong support were taken away from you—as if you could not sit up straight alone, and I confess, teo, to having had a feeling of weakness in the sides and back. When you come to think of it that was natural enough, and there is no doubt that, had I laced tighter than I did, I would have felt still weaker and still more in need of

A Rulny Day Garment.

Most inventions, as everybody knows, are common principles uncommonly applied. So it is not strange that a young matron, a Brooklyn woman of social prominence, with an inventive turn of mind, should have conceived the idea of extending the virtues of a baby's creeping apron to adult use. "If babies can emerge with spotless lawn and dimity, all through the protection of a calico bag," she thought, "why may not the "fast." gowns of the children of an older growth

When the first band is secured, the extra length is gathered up over the gown and fastened part of the clock is the same as any stylish mackintosh, with cape and collar Originally the cloak was designed merely for the inventor's personal use, but some day it may be patented-so popular has in New York Times.

The Girls' Latest Fad.

The girls have a new fad now. It is called the "autographic plaque." Like all fads, it has swept the homes of the casioned no end of sharp comment by members of the sterner sex who have been mulcted of dimes.

The "autographic plaque" is an ingenious device of a china firing concern, and its purpose is financial gain for this establishment. Pieces of cardboard 10 by 10 inches in size are distributed where they are likely to meet with a favorable reception. These pieces
